

August 2004 Quotes

"We never know the worth of water 'til the well is dry."	English Proverb
"Not everything that can be counted counts, and not everything that counts can be counted."	Albert Einstein
"If we cannot now end our differences, at least we can help make the world safe for diversity."	John Fitzgerald Kennedy
"No animal ever invented anything as bad as drunkenness - or so good as drink."	G K Chesterton
"Which of us has not been stunned by the beauty of an animal's skin or its flexibility in motion?"	Marianne Moore
"Generally, by the time you are Real, most of your hair has been loved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby. But these things don't matter at all, because once you are Real you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand."	Margery Williams (The Velveteen Rabbit)
"Animals are reliable, many full of love, true in their affections, predictable in their actions, grateful and loyal. Difficult standards for people to live up to."	Alfred A Montapert
"A happy person is not a person in a certain set of circumstances, but rather a person with a certain set of attitudes."	Hugh Downs
"The greatest weakness of most humans is their hesitancy to tell others how much they love them while they are still alive."	O A Battista
"Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them and try to follow where they lead."	Louise May Alcott
"He hoped and prayed that there wasn't an afterlife. Then he realized there was a contradiction involved here and merely hoped that there wasn't an afterlife."	Douglas Adams
"Bad habits are like a comfortable bed, easy to get into, but hard to get out of."	Anon
"Habits are safer than rules; you don't have to watch them. And you don't have to keep them either. They keep you."	Frank Crane, Essays
"We first make our habits, and then our habits make us."	John Dryden
"Habit and routine have an unbelievable power to waste and destroy."	Henri de Lubac, Paradoxes
"There is nothing stable in the world; uproar's your only music."	John Keats
"There is always music amongst the trees in the garden, but our hearts must be very quiet to hear it."	M Aumonier
"Great art is as irrational as great music. It is mad with its own loveliness."	George Jean Nathan
"Words make you think a thought. Music makes you feel a feeling. A song makes you feel a thought."	E Y Harburg (Edgar Yipsel) (1898 - 1981)
"Music melts all the separate parts of our bodies together."	Anais Nin
